Land use war paralyzes General Plan

Daniel Mintz
MAD RIVER UNION

HUMBOLDT — Humboldt County's effort to implement its General Plan is now mired in lawsuit threats and supervisors have backed off of decision-making to allow for legal review.

At its July 9 meeting, the Board of Supervisors took another try at approving new zoning standards for agricultural and timberland parcels but failed to move any markers after hours of discussion.

Supervisors were also unable to reach a decision when they last reviewed the General Plan zoning changes, on June 18. Supervisors Mike Wilson and Steve Madrone had concerns about residential development allowances on the resource lands and asked that planning staff devise new, more protective — and, for residential construction, more limiting — alternatives.

On agricultural parcels, two non-ag-related residences are allowed within a limited "building envelope" and the new alternatives define their location, setbacks, and other requirements.

Telegraphing what was about to be said during public comment, Planning Director John Ford told supervisors that the proposed zoning changes are "going to raise all kinds of red flags for folks."

But he added that they define what is and isn't allowed within the building envelopes.

The heavy baggage of General Plan conflict, almost 20 years in the making, shaped the discussion at the dais and at the public comment podium.

Eureka Attorney Alison Jackson recalled the upwelling of controversy over the county's moratorium on timberland residential permitting over a decade

Wilson named to Coastal Commission

MAD RIVER UNION

HUMBOLDT — Third District Supervisor Mike Wilson, 51, of Arcata, has been appointed to the California Coastal Commission, according to an announcement by Governor Gavin Newsom.

Wilson was owner and project engineer for HWR Engineering and Science from 1994 to 2017. He was an ecological engineer for Stillwater Sciences from 2014 to 2016.

Wilson was an environmental engineer for the Humboldt County Division of Environmental Health from 1995 to 1996 and a staff environmental engineer for Tetra Tech from 1994 to 1995 and for Woodward Clyde Consultants from 1990 to 1992.

Wilson earned a Master of Science degree in environmental systems engineering from Humboldt State University. He was also a college associate of rock guitar shredding legend Buckethead.

Wilson feels well-suited to the position and looks forward to representing Humboldt's interests there.

"My academic experience, job and public service experience revolve around many of the same coastal resource and access issues," he said. "It offers the perspective that Northern California and specifically, Humboldt has to the commission."

Still, he said, "the over arching job is to preserve and protect Coastal resources for all Californians."

Main Street director quits, tempering Plaza progress

Todd moves on to CASA, throwing rigorous event schedule into question

Kevin L. Hoover
MAD RIVER UNION

ARCATA — After two years of relative stability and unprecedented productivity, the resignation of Arcata Main Street's (AMS) dynamic director has returned the downtown business organization to its nominal state of being "in transition."

Executive Director Jeanette Todd announced her resignation last Tuesday morning at the monthly, casual gathering of downtown businesspeople.

That's one of the new functions Todd created and managed, along with an array of Plaza activities. Todd's last day is this Friday.

As various city committees attempt the heavy lift of civilizing the Plaza once and for all, conventional wisdom has held that mainstreaming it with wholesome, family-oriented activities is key to harassing away misbehavers. So effective was Todd in forging special events such as the recent Fairy festi-

MAJOR SCENE AT THE MINOR Local filmmakers Tim Rossi and Katie Rooney of TK Film Studios filmed a scene of their upcoming film Legend at the Minor Theatre Sunday morning. The story includes filmmaker "Pete Gizz" (Kyle Orr) being mobbed on arrival at the theatre for his film's premiere. Extras were instructed to emote as excited reaction, thoughtful questioning, genuinely touched, brink of tears and wild applause. Below right, Rooney handles sound. val, and in elevating already established ones like the Oyster Festival, that the City Council more than doubled its annual stipend to AMS. That money was initially taken from the $150,000 budgeted to carry out recommendations of the Plaza Improvement Task Force, and was later replaced.

During recent budget hearings and in response to an appeal by AMS President Vicki Joyce, the City Council noted that Todd was "knocking it out of the park," as Councilmember Susan Ornelas put it, and agreed to add $20,000 to the organization's city funding, for a total of roughly $35,000.

Now though, it's unclear how much of what Todd had wrought will survive her absence. A Moon Landing Celebration commemorating the Apollo 11 mission scheduled for this Saturday has been called off, in part due to the lack of a projection screen for use on the Plaza.

"It just felt like it wasn't going to work," Joyce said, calling it "an event in need of a center."

However, Joyce said this weekend's Sunday Fun Day will take place from noon to 3 p.m., and include live music and a bounce house. She said the monthly business meetings will continue as well. "That's why I first got involved in Main Street, for the communication," she said.

As for the rest of the year's programming, Joyce said, "That's what we're going to try to figure out Monday" at a special meeting of the AMS board. While some of the newer events might fall away, it's unlikely

Health Dept. warning of Pertussis outbreak

DEPT. OF HEALTH & HUMAN SERVICES

HUMBOLDT — Public Health officials were notified last Wednesday that a Eureka teen has tested positive for pertussis, also known as whooping cough, which is a highly contagious respiratory disease.

In a follow-up investigation, communicable disease staff identified 40 possible contacts during the patient's contagious period. All are now being notified.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), pertussis is a cyclical bacterial infection that peaks every three to five years. Immunity, whether from getting the vaccine or from having the disease, typically wears off within five years, leaving previously immune children susceptible again by adolescence.

"Even if the CDC vaccination schedule is closely followed it still sometimes falls short for pertussis in particular, due in part to waning immunity," said Public Health Supervising Communicable Disease Nurse Hava Phillips.

During a 2014 outbreak in Humboldt County, there were over 190 confirmed cases of pertussis. Statewide in 2014, more than 11,000 Californians tested positive. More than 9,000 cases were reported in 2010, with 808 hospitalizations and 10 infant deaths. In 2017 and 2018, no cases were reported in Humboldt County.

The CDC notes that pertussis can cause serious health effects for people of all ages, but infants are at higher risk.

"About half of infants diagnosed with pertussis will be hospitalized, so it's critically important that pregnant women are vaccinated during their third trimester to provide newborns with maternal antibodies," said Phillips.

CDPH strongly recommends a booster shot for anyone over 11 years old who has not yet received one.

The CDC states that illness typically begins with cold-like symptoms and sometimes a mild cough or fever before progressing to severe coughing fits. In babies, the cough can be minimal or nonexistent. Babies may have a symptom known as "apnea," which is a pause in the child's breathing pattern.

Countywide, just over 91 percent of kindergartners have received all required doses of the vaccine. More than 93 percent of 7th graders have received a booster.

For additional information about pertussis, visit the CDPH website, talk to your medical provider or phone the Public Health Branch Communicable Disease Program at (707) 268-2182. To make an appointment for a vaccine, contact your healthcare provider or call the Public Health Clinic at (707) 268-2108.

KHSU 90.5 FM was hacked

HUMBOLDT STATE UNIVERSITY

HUMBOLDT STATE — Radio station KHSU's recent computer problems are the result of a ransomware attack.

The incident disabled most of the station's programming systems and all storage servers, which didn't house sensitive information. As a result, regular programming continues to be interrupted.

Ransomware is a form of extortion that blocks access to files and threatens to reveal data unless a ransom is paid. Humboldt State has not received a specific payment demand and isn't aware of who may be responsible for the attack.

Because KHSU is a federally licensed facility, the incident was reported to federal law enforcement and the Federal Communications Commission.

KHSU programming has been interrupted since the station began experiencing computer problems on July 1.

The attack exploited a vulnerability in KHSU's system. The university is grateful to its partners who are assisting the station. Capital Public Radio at CSU Sacramento is helping to restore KSHU programming and North State Public Radio at CSU Chico is airing its programming on KHSU.

The university hopes to have this resolved as soon as possible as it rebuilds programming and improves the security of KHSU.

that annual fixtures such as Trick or Treat on the Plaza and the Season of Wonder and Light would be called off.

Joyce said that none of the extra $20,000 the city allocated to AMS has actually been turned over to the group. Rather, AMS was to bill the city for expenses following downtown events. Also, some of that sum was going to come from in-kind donations such as fee waivers.

Said Todd, "I have accepted a position as the Resource Development Director for CASA of Humboldt, July 19th will be my last day with Arcata Main Street. It has been a joy working with the downtown business community and the City of Arcata to bring activities, programming and vital ity to our petite nonprofit member service area, in such a small community I am sure our paths will cross again. Thank you for the opportunity to learn and grow through these community interactions, I hope to spend time with you in my new role supporting our youth and drawing attention to CASA's important mission."

"We thank Jeanette for her service," Joyce said. "She has brought so much energy and enthusiasm to the downtown that we will surely miss her."

Todd has served as AMS's ED since September of 2017. Joyce said the organization is looking for a new director right away. By week's end, three applications had been received. Those interested in the position may contact AMS at arcatamainstreet@gmail.com.

County seeks to 'change paradigm' for housing

Daniel Mintz

MAD RIVER UNION

HUMBOLDT — Humboldt's Planning Commission has signed off on a draft housing plan whose new approaches on addressing a crisis-level affordable housing shortage include a political shift toward projects funded and owned by the county.

"One of the conclusions that this Housing Element reaches is that we cannot build affordable housing right now, under the status quo," Planning Director John Ford told the commission at a July 11 hearing. "Changes have to be made and what this is trying to do is to change the paradigm of the private-government partnership in terms of how we construct housing in Humboldt County to meet the needs."

Ford referred to a chart shown earlier on the county's lack of housing progress in the period from 2014 to 2018. Low and very low income housing need was calculated at 212 units for the combined category but building permits were issued for only 33 units.

Only 44 low income units were permitted while the need was set at 135 units.

The only housing category that performed well was moderate income, which gained 226 permits, 80 units more than its need.

Known as the Housing Element, the eight-year plan is a state-mandated element of the General Plan that describes how the county will meet housing demand. And the change of paradigm mentioned by Ford includes pursuit of county-funded construction projects.

Early in the hearing, the viability of that approach was questioned by Commissioner Melanie McCavour. "Say we do become a county that is able to, for example, run housing," she said. "I am in favor of that but there are a lot of unknowns."

A statutory obstacle is one of them. Approved by voters in 1950, Article 34 of the state's constitution requires that low income housing projects funded by local governments go before voters for approval.

Among the plan's implementation measures is to lobby for repeal of Article 34 on a statewide level. If that doesn't succeed, a local ballot initiative to allow the county to "develop, construct or acquire low cost housing" is advised.

Senior Planner Michelle Nielsen said there's "pending legislation" to bring a repeal before state voters.

Commission Chair Bob Morris noted that two of the plan's main goals — increasing affordable housing and housing for people at risk of being homeless — are "contingent" on the repeal. "My concern is that we have policies and standards here that are not going to be relevant if Article 34 isn't repealed," he said.

Deputy County Counsel Joel Ellinwood told commissioners that the local initiative requirement "is not an absolute prohibition but it creates a high bar for the actual production of housing."

Another high bar was discussed by Commissioner Alan Bongio, who is a developer himself. Use of public funds for projects — including projects funded with federal and state grants — triggers prevailing wage pay for workers.

"That, sometimes, is three times what the going standard rate is," he said. "So if your cost for labor is two to three times more, how do you get affordable housing? Let's just be honest, we've got to figure out how to break the cycle."

He highlighted another potential limitation — the Humboldt Bay area is vulnerable to sea level rise and the county's options for dealing with it include restricting housing construction. "I can tell you from being in the development industry, the easy projects are gone — the easy land is gone and what's left out there is too expensive to develop," said Bongio.

Recognizing the county's housing shortage, the plan's new methods of sheltering include allowances for safe parking, tiny home villages and "special occupancy parks."

Those measures were supported during public comment and some people suggested emphasizing them as responses to an emergency.

"As I've heard other speakers say, I want, somehow in our Housing Element, the statement that declares the urgency that we have," said Nezzie Wade, a boardmember of Affordable Homeless Housing Alternatives, the Redwood Community Action Agency and a county housing trust fund committee. "I know we can't create housing and we won't have affordable housing — and there's no one size that fits all."

Repeal of Article 34 is "really important," she added.

The planning is driven by a Regional Housing Needs Assessment (RHNA) that projects demand for various housing categories and allots shares. The RHNA for the 2019 to 2027 Housing Element totals 1,416 units in the county unincorporated area.

Of the total, 351 units are in the very low income category and 223 are in the low income category.

The commission voted to recommend approval of the draft plan, with Bongio dissenting.

The Housing Element needs to be approved by the Board of Supervisors by August 27 and submitted to the state by Aug. 31.

Area woman seeks dessert

MAD RIVER UNION

HUMBOLDT — An area woman is hoping someone will bring her dessert.

Carla, a Eureka resident, took out a classified ad to that effect in the current edition of the Mad River Union.

In the ad, she requests a home-cooked after-dinner treat.

Reads the ad, "Do you like to bake? Very nice sickly lady would like free dessert."

According to Wikipedia, the Internet's online encyclopedia, dessert is the final course to a meal. In western cultures, it usually consists of sweet items such as cake, pie, pastries, ice cream, pudding or various beverages.

In an exclusive interview, Carla explained her request. "I don't know how to bake, and my husband doesn't either," she told the Union.

She said she is recovering from an illness, and will be all right, especially if some dessert is involved in the recovery.

The confection gap might be filled, Carla suggested, by cupcakes, banana nut bread, or even just some nice cookies.

She isn't particular as to what kind of cookies — sugar, peanut butter or oatmeal cookies would be fine, she said.

"I thought it would be nice if someone brought me dessert," she concluded.

More details on Carla's dessert quest on page B2.

Comment open on Creek Side Homes EIR

MAD RIVER UNION

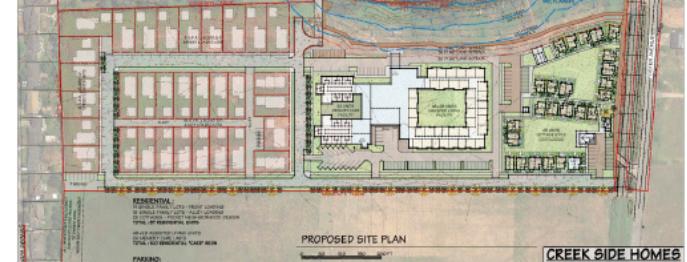

ARCATA — The Draft Environmental Impact Report (DEIR) (SCH#2016022083) for the Creek Side Homes Project is now available for review.

Public comment on this document is invited for a 45-day period extending from June 26 through Aug. 12, 2019.

Creek Side Homes is a Danco Communities development of 32 single-family residences, a 100-unit senior assisted living and memory care facility, and 25 senior-restricted neighborhood cottage units; collectively referred to as the Creek Side Homes project.

The project will provide housing for 269 residents.

The project involves incorporating new land into the city from the county and extending services to newly created parcels, and includes extension of Foster Avenue, modifications to the Janes Creek crossing at Foster Avenue, a number of trail and alternative transportation improvements, including improvements to Ennes Park to install emergency ingress to the project.

The site is located at Foster Avenue and Q Street, on the north side of the large vacant lot.

It is inside the city's anticipated annexation area and was previously analyzed as a likely annexation in the General Plan in 2000.

The Environmental Impact Report includes analysis of the project, mitigations, and a mitigation and monitoring plan.

The Draft EIR and other project materials are now available for review and

Crabs get off work early against Ukiah

Richard LaPreziosa
MAD RIVER UNION

ARCATA — It wasn't the way he wanted it, but Crabs manager Robin Guiver will take the wins this weekend against the Ukiah Cardinals. I mean Ukiah Hawks. Well, the jerseys they wore said Cardinals but they were called the Hawks.

In any case, the team from Ukiah proved to be easy work for the mighty Crabs, who, with their 21-13 record, evoked the mercy rule in all three games of the weekend series.

The mercy rule, to the surprise and dismay of a Canadian electrician crew enjoying Sunday's game while taking a break from contract work for PG&E, and just returning to their seats after getting some beers, says that after six innings if there's a lead of 10 runs or more the game is finished.

This was the case Friday night, the game being called after six with the Crabs up 20-0. Again on Saturday night with a score of 14-0. Sunday the Hawks actually got two runs but still fell 13-0.

Add it all up and that's a 47-2 run total for the weekend.

"It's not what we want to play. It's not ideal but we can only worry about our own team. Our guys did what they were supposed to do," Guiver said after the series.

And boy did the Crabs ever do what they were supposed to do. They struck out 30 batters over the 18 innings played over the weekend and knocked three home runs out of the Arcata Ballpark.

Sadly, none of those home runs were from right fielder Damian Henderson.

A home run would have been a great way to celebrate his birthday Sunday as at press time he sits tied for the Crabs single season home run record with nine. The record was set in 2006 by Brian Blauser but is ripe to be overtaken by the affable Henderson, who's tied the record just two thirds of the way through the season. And to hear Guiver talk about it, to break the record would be a meaningful accomplishment.

"He's pressing a little bit, going to bed thinking about it, waking up thinking about it. It'll come for him."

HSU GETS GRANT Humboldt State University has received a $100,000 grant from the Hearst Foundations that will support HSU's campus-wide effort to combat financial challenges faced by students. The funding will support several programs that help meet HSU students' basic needs. These programs focus on health care access, emergency housing and other adversity support, scholarships for low-income and underserved students, and expansion of affordability programs, such as laptops on loan. Frank Whitlatch, HSU's interim vice president for university advancement, thanked the Hearst Foundations for supporting students. "This grant will help HSU break down barriers that some of our students face," he said. "This support brings HSU one step closer to a future where no student drops out of college due to financial reasons." As one of the 23 campuses within the California State University system, HSU's focus on supporting students' basic needs is one of the pillars of the CSU system's 2025 Graduation Initiative. The 2025 Graduation Initiative aims to increase graduation rates while eliminating opportunity and achievement gaps for all CSU students.

The stories behind the stories

SOLEMN JOURNEY The funeral procession of Sgt. Elden C. Jus-tus as it entered Arcata last Thursday. TONY GONZALVES | UNION

Respect the procession

Recently I had the honor to be part of a funeral procession of a Korean War Hero that had been missing in action. It was a touching event to see people lined up along the roadway with flags showing their respect. There were even two Highway Patrol officers saluting as we passed. That sight brought tears to my eyes and I heard later that I was not the only one.

My sympathies to the family. I am pleased they finally got their loved one back after so many years.

I would like to thank the Humboldt County Sheriff's office for the escort from the Humboldt County Line to Arcata. I would also like to thank my employer, Pacific Builders, for enthusiastically allowing me the time off for this special event.

As a child I remember seeing funeral processions but as an adult I can't remember the last time I saw one. From what I witnessed during this procession, I have to assume not many drivers are familiar with them either so I thought I would give some helpful hints on funeral procession etiquette.

Tips for showing respect for a funeral procession:

- If you encounter cars with mourners, be polite, pull over, and wait for them to pass before proceeding.

- Show respect by not honking your horn, revving your engine, or acting impatient in any way.

- Once the lead car has entered traffic, such as going through an intersection – the entire procession will follow without interrup-

Just plant it

"When you look at the statistics of what's happening to species, to rainforests, to forests of all kinds, it's so overwhelming that it's difficult to believe it. It's utterly daunting. I wanted to tell a story about ordinary people who, for whatever reason, have that realisation about the irreversible destruction that's happening right now and who get radicalised as a result. The book explores that question of how far is too far when it comes to defending this place, the only place we have to make a home."

– From an interview of Richard Powers, author of The Overstory

"In my opinion the implications of our study are that we need to respect forests as humanity's best ally to protect the climate and our life support system. Our study shows clearly that forest restoration is the best climate change solution available today"

– From a report published in Science this past July 4

A few weeks ago a friend of mine called to say that he had several small redwoods that needed a home. Later that afternoon, while strolling through the plaza I took a picture of the planter where McKinley once stood and texted – "I think I know a spot." His reply – "I had the same idea."

And so, choosing to bypass the committee, we just planted it. It took two bags of compost and five minutes. Pretty simple. Felt pretty good.

THE PLAZA'S NEW TREES
weren't intended for the ages,
and are gone. KLH | UNION

We knew the tree was likely to be pulled just as we knew its roots would only ever go a few inches deep before encountering the previous statue's base – a 25 ton slab of granite. And yet we did so just the same, as something of a challenge. For what would it say about our community, ourselves and our real ability to deal with climate change if we could indeed help this little one to grow and thrive? And perhaps more significant, what does it say if we can't?

There is no one solution to climate change, and possibly at this point, no solutions left at all, but the simplest and easiest thing that any one of us can do right now, right here, in our own backyard, is to plant a tree. And really, what better a symbol for Humboldt than a redwood?

That tree is gone, but perhaps someone might plant another?

Sadly, this story is not going away. Let's see if maybe we can write a good ending.

Sincerely,
Dave Reagan

TO ALL PERSONS WITH CLAIMS AGAINST ANY
DEBTOR SET FORTH BELOW:

NAME OF DEBTOR AND LAST FOUR DIGITS OF FEDERAL TAX IDENTIFICATION NUMBER	CASE NUMBER
PG&E Corporation (4914) ("PG&E Corp.")	19-30088 (DM)
Pacific Gas and Electric Company (2640) (the "Utility")	19-30089 (DM)

The United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of California (the "Bankruptcy Court") has entered an order (the "Bar Date Order") establishing October 21, 2019 at 5:00 p.m. (Prevailing Pacific Time) (the "Bar Date") as the last date and time for each (i) person, as defined in section 101(41) of title 11 of the United States Code (the "Bankruptcy Code"), including, without limitation, all Fire Claimants (as defined below), Wildfire Subrogation Claimants (as defined below), and Customers (as defined below), and (ii) governmental unit (as defined in section 101(27) of the Bankruptcy Code, collectively, the "Governmental Units") to file a proof of claim (each a "Proof of Claim") in respect of a prepetition claim (as defined in section 101(5) of the Bankruptcy Code), including, for the avoidance of doubt, all secured claims and priority claims against either of the above-listed debtors (collectively, the "Debtors").

The Bar Date and the procedures set forth below for filing Proofs of Claim apply to all claims against the Debtors that arose before January 29, 2019 (the "Petition Date"), the date on which the Debtors commenced cases under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code (the "Chapter 11 Cases").

1. WHO MUST FILE A PROOF OF CLAIM

You MUST file a Proof of Claim to vote on a chapter 11 plan filed by the Debtors or to share in distributions from the Debtors' bankruptcy estates if you have a claim that arose before the Petition Date, and it is not one of the types of claims described in Section 5 below. Claims based on acts or omissions of the Debtors that occurred before the Petition Date must be filed on or before the Bar Date, even if such claims are not now fixed, liquidated or certain or did not mature or become fixed, liquidated or certain before the Petition Date.

Under section 101(5) of the Bankruptcy Code and as used in this notice, the word "claim" means a right to (a) payment, whether such right is reduced to judgment, liquidated, unliquidated, fixed, contingent, matured, unmatured, disputed, undisputed, legal, equitable, secured, or unsecured; or (b) an equitable remedy for breach of performance if such breach gives rise to a right to payment, whether such right to an equitable remedy is reduced to judgment, fixed, contingent, matured, unmatured, disputed, undisputed, secured, or unsecured.

2. WHAT TO FILE

A. Claimants other than Holders of Fire Claims.

The Debtors have prepared a Proof of Claim form for use by claimants in these Chapter 11 Cases other than Fire Claimants and Wildfire Subrogation Claimants (the "Standard Proof of Claim Form"). If your claim is listed on the schedules of assets and liabilities filed by the Debtors (collectively, the "Schedules"), you will receive in the mail a Standard Proof of Claim Form that sets forth the amount of your claim as listed on the Schedules, if applicable, the specific Debtor against which the claim is scheduled, and whether the claim is scheduled as "disputed," "contingent," or "unliquidated." You will receive a different Standard Proof of Claim Form for each claim listed in your name on the Schedules. You may utilize the Standard Proof of Claim Form(s) you receive from the Debtors to file your claim. Additional Standard Proof of Claim Forms and instructions may be obtained at (a) the website established by the Debtors' Court-approved claims and noticing agent, Prime Clerk LLC ("Prime Clerk"), and (b) the website of the Case Website.

All Proof of Claim Forms must be signed by the claimant or an authorized agent of the claimant. It must be written in English and the amount, if known, must be denominated in United States currency (using the exchange rate, if applicable, as of the Petition Date). You also should attach to your completed Proof of Claim any documents on which the claim is based (if voluminous, attach a summary) or an explanation as to why the documents are not available.

Your Proof of Claim Form must not contain complete social security numbers or taxpayer identification numbers (include only the last four (4) digits), a complete birth date (include only the year), the name of a minor (include only the minor's initials), or a financial account number (include only the last four (4) digits of such account number).

IF YOU ARE ASSERTING A CLAIM AGAINST MORE THAN ONE DEBTOR, SEPARATE PROOFS OF CLAIM MUST BE FILED AGAINST EACH SUCH DEBTOR AND YOU MUST IDENTIFY ON YOUR PROOF OF CLAIM THE SPECIFIC DEBTOR AGAINST WHICH YOUR CLAIM IS ASSERTED AND THE CASE NUMBER OF THAT DEBTOR'S BANKRUPTCY CASE (SEE ABOVE).

B. Fire Claimants and Wildfire Subrogation Claimants.

Pursuant to the Bar Date Order, and all matters related thereto, (a) any claim (as such term is defined in section 101(5) of the Bankruptcy Code) related to or in any way arising from the wildfires that occurred in Northern California prior to the Petition Date (January 29, 2019) (the "Northern California Fires"),² including any claim held by a Wildfire Subrogation Claimant, is referred to herein as a "Fire Claim"; (b) any person or entity, including any Governmental Unit, holding a Fire Claim (other than a Wildfire Subrogation Claimant) is referred to herein as a "Fire Claimant"; and (c) any insurance carrier having made payments to their insureds for any damages arising out of or relating to a Fire Claim, or any other party who has acquired by assignment or otherwise obtained an interest in a claim arising out of or related to such payments, is referred to herein as a "Wildfire Subrogation Claimant".

If you (or, in the case of a wrongful-death claim, the estate you represent) believe you have a claim against either of the Debtors for personal injury or wrongful death, property damage, or other loss or liability in any way related to or resulting from the Northern California Fires, you or your authorized agent or attorney MUST file a Proof of Claim for your Fire Claim prior to the Bar Date in accordance with the instructions in this notice. Proof of Claim forms for Fire Claimants (a "Fire Claimant Proof of Claim Form") and Wildfire Subrogation Claimants (a "Wildfire Subrogation Claimant Proof of Claim Form") and, together with the Fire Claimant Proof of Claim Form, the "Fire Proof of Claim Forms" are available at the Case Website. Substantially all of the information requested in the applicable Fire Proof of Claim Form must be provided. All timely filed Fire Proof of Claim Forms shall be deemed filed against both PG&E Corp. and the Utility.

You or your authorized agent or attorney MUST file a Proof of Claim on account of your Fire Claim even if you may be included in, or represented by, a purported class action, class suit, class Proof of Claim, or similar representative action filed against the Debtors with respect to your Fire Claim. You may but are not required to attach supporting documentation to your Fire Proof of Claim Form. Please be advised, except as otherwise provided in the Bar Date Order, if supporting documentation is attached by any claimant to a Fire Proof of Claim Form, such supporting documentation will be publicly available as a part of such claimant's Fire Proof of Claim Form.

3. SPECIAL PROVISIONS FOR CUSTOMERS

If you are a residential or non-residential customer of the Debtors (each a "Customer") and you believe you have a claim against the Debtors relating to the period prior to the Petition Date, you MUST file a Standard Proof of Claim Form by the Bar Date. Customers are not required to file proofs of claim for ordinary and customary refunds, overpayments, billing credits, deposits or similar billing items.

MAD RIVER UNION A8

MIRE ON THE FOUNTAIN

Lean, sinewy City Councilmember Paul Pitino and brawny, can-do Action Mayor Brett Watson spent their Sunday morning removing the muck and mire of the ages from the Plaza's least-famous fixture, the Temperance League Fountain. Installed in 1912 by the Arcata Women's Christian Temperance Union, the "bubbler" was intended to give Arcata men-folk a quenching alternative to the town's taverns, where all too many drank away their paychecks. The fountain doesn't work at the moment, so the next step is repairing its plumbing. KLH | UNION

SCRUBBING THE BUBBLER

NO BOVINE

Following last week's discovery of a loose yak a-wandering in the Jacoby Creek Forest (JCF) (Our ever-expanding yakiverse, Mad River Union, July 10), yet another yak sighting took place the day the paper came out. On Jacoby Creek Road, just a hop, skip and a plod down from the JCF, a "shaggy cow" was reported in someone's yard. The horny ruminant was shortly taken into custody by the Humboldt County Sheriff's Office. It's not known whether the yak at right is the same one previously seen up the hill.

Eat spicy, get sweaty!

Angry Chiles might not be the right name for this new booth at the market! Dave and Aniza Liming, who grow all of their peppers and most of the ingredients for their sauces and relishes, are just too sweet to be angry.

There's a lot of laughter and happiness at their booth as folks try their wares.

Their colorful display includes seven varieties of hot sauce, fire cider, jams and chutneys, salsas, and spicy salt.

And these chiles are well traveled.

"We have a thousand pepper plants," Dave Liming explained. "We start them in a friend's greenhouse in Fieldbrook and then take them to Honeydew."

Most of their plants grow in the ample sunshine in the Mattole Valley where the couple's Live Oak Farm is located.

"A few of the superhots stay in our greenhouse," he added, "but most of the plants are outside." Their varieties include "all of the world's hot peppers," including Trinidad Scorpion, Ghost, California Reapers, Habanero and Scotch Bonnet.

Angry Chiles peppers are in demand to other hot sauce companies such as Weitchpec Hot Sauce and Humboldt Hot Sauce. It all depends on the crop. "We may or may not have enough peppers for them," Dave Liming said.

It's their first year in the markets but they've been farming as a hobby for five years.

Their relishes are unique, including Chilera, a relish made from carrots, onions, chiles, Daikon radishes, and other ingredients. "It's the condiment of Costa Rica," he said. I tasted it and my cheeks turned as red as if I were getting a Costa Rican sunburn. Delicious!

I can't wait to taste Aniza Liming's inspired fig chutney.

"Last year our fig tree went insane," she said. "I had to do something with all those figs." She was inspired to make a fig and onion chutney that just hearing about made my mouth water. I've made hundreds of jars of mango chutney when I lived in Hawaii where people force brown paper bags of mangos on you, rather as we do with zucchini in Humboldt County. And, thanks to overflow from my neighbor's tree, I make plum chutney every summer. But fig chutney? I cannot wait!

Their Fire Cider is a tonic that is filled with cider infused with chiles for two months, spices and herbs, and raw honey. "Take a shot a day to keep the doctor away," proclaims the label. Here's a tonic that might just cure all evil.

The couple uses the commercial kitchen at the Arcata Veterans Hall to do their bottling.

It's easy to see that everything, as their business card says, is made in "Small Batches always made with love."

Their hot sauces are available at the Co-op and Eureka Natural but for the full spicy experience, visit their booth at the Thursday afternoon McKinleyville market or the Tuesday afternoon Fortuna market. They may be at the Saturday market in Arcata as space opens up. You'll get to meet these delightful folks and taste everything.

TWILIGHT AT THE MARSH Come experience the quiet of summer twilight at the Arcata Marsh and Wildlife Sanctuary on Friday, July 19. Local naturalist Alexa De Joannis will lead a casual exploration of our local gem on behalf of Friends of the Arcata Marsh from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the end of the work week. The marsh at dusk is alive with animals getting ready for night time against a landscape of sunset and rising fog. Dress warmly. Meet at the first parking lot on South I Street, on the left coming from Samoa Boulevard (just before the yellow gate). Bring a flashlight if you wish. Call (202) 288-5174 with questions.

WATERSHED STEWARDS On Friday, July 19, join Jess Coming for a lecture on the Watershed Stewards Program (WSP). The talk will introduce the WSP, where history is being made in the environmental movement by uniting scientists with citizens in a conversation about global environmental stewardship. Topics will range from current local watershed research to steps that can be taken toward bridging the interpersonal gap between citizens and scientists.

Coming is a WSP member serving at the Bureau of Land Management in Arcata, where she conducts watershed protection and recovery research, watershed awareness and education programs, and outreach to aspiring environmental stewards. She has a BS degree in environmental science and management (ecological restoration) and a minor in watershed management from Humboldt State University. She has experience working with natural resources managers and educators throughout California and Costa Rica. This free public lecture, starting at 7:30 p.m. at the Arcata Marsh Interpretive Center, is sponsored by FOAM. Seating is limited to the first 50 attendees, on a first-come, first-served basis. For more information, call (707) 826-2359.

WONDERFUL WETLANDS Join Humboldt Bay National Wildlife Refuge for Wonderful Wetlands on Sunday, July 21, from 1 to 4 p.m. Celebrate summer with friends and family and bring a picnic out to the refuge for the afternoon. Explore the wetland habitats of southern Humboldt Bay through fun, hands-on science activities, arts and crafts. Dip net in the pond and take a closer look at what you find. Make an origami frog and other wetland inspired art. All materials provided. All ages are welcome at this free, drop-in, event. No pets please. Take the Hookton Road Exit No. 696 off U.S. Highway 101 and meet at the Richard J. Guadagno Headquarters and Visitor Center, 1020 Ranch Rd. in Loleta. (707) 733-5406, fws.gov/refuge/humboldt_bay/

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED The Arcata Marsh & Wildlife Sanctuary needs your help to welcome and educate its thousands of yearly visitors. Come learn how to lead tours or just become more familiar with aspects of the marsh during a weekend session co-sponsored by Friends of the Arcata Marsh and Redwood Region Audubon Society.

Volunteer training will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, July 20 and from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. on Sunday, July 21 at the Interpretive Center, 569 South G St., Arcata. Both lecture and field trip formats will be used. TRINIDAD COASTAL LAND TRUST

TRINIDAD – The community is invited to celebrate the grand reopening of the Luffenholtz Beach trail and the transfer of the Luffenholtz Beach property to the Trinidad Coastal Land Trust (TCLT) on Thursday, July 18 at 1:30 p.m. at the Luffenholtz Beach trail head.

TCLT is the new owner and land manager of the Luffenholtz Beach property, including the beach trail and upper parking lot vista point trail. The 8-acre parcel was transferred by the California Department of Fish and Wildlife (CDFW) to TCLT this past June, after the agency approved an internal land acquisition evaluation.

The state Wildlife Conservation Board approved the project at its March board meeting in Sacramento. TCLT has already made initial improvements to the property and is currently seeking funding to design, permit and develop additional improvements that will include a wheelchair accessible vista picnic area, ADA portable restroom facility, enhanced parking, interpretive signage, trail safety improvements and ecosystem restoration.

Recent site improvements at the Luffenholtz Beach trail include the installation of 99 new trail steps with help from American Hiking Society Volunteers and a driftwood carved beach sign, designed and produced by local middle school students Malia and Ruby from McKinleyville Girl Scout Troop 90045.

TCLT volunteers currently maintain a doggy bag waste station, porta-potty unit and garbage patrol, which all help to provide a much cleaner beach environment.

TCLT has been involved in helping to maintain this site since 2013, when Humboldt County Parks was forced to cancel the long-standing maintenance agreement with the state because of budget restrictions.

While public funding was dropped, the beach continued to be a popular destination and felt the impacts of human use. To help maintain the health of the beach and provide pub-

Pickleball, pastels and more

With all the sun out in Blue Lake, it's easy to forget that there are other activities that take place inside that may be of interest to you!

Did you know that the Parks and Recreation Department has a variety of fun activities to choose from? Pickleball takes place three days a week (Mondays at 5:30 p.m. and Tuesdays/Thursdays at 1 p.m.).

Drop in sports (basketball, pickleball, foosball, etc) are on Thursdays at 6 p.m. The Mad River Grange has several instructors for Tai Chi and Yoga as well – check out madrivergrange.com for the most up to date calendar for those community activities.

I've been talking for the past two weeks about Pastels in the Park. What an amazing event to be a part of, and this will be the second annual offering of this event on Saturday, July 27 from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. at 312 South Railroad Ave. in Blue Lake.

Businesses sponsor a square, and artists create an image based on parameters from the sponsors of each square. If you would like to sponsor a square, or maybe you want to be an artist, contact Nathan Sailor at Blue Lake Parks and Recreation at (707) 668-5932. And for everyone else, come on out, enjoy the beautiful art, and play some games for Get Out and Play day in commemoration of Parks and Recreation Month!

OLD-TIMEY CONCERT Fort Humboldt Brass, complete in Civil War-era Union uniforms, will perform a two-hour concert on Saturday, July 27 at the Clarke Museum Plaza in Old Town Eureka. Dressed in remembrance of the U.S. Army's Fort Humboldt in Eureka from the mid-19th century, the band will start off the performance with selections from the Civil War era, gradually working up to Humboldt County-composed music from local performers, including that of the prolific Prof. Frank Flowers. The set for the second hour will feature some new musical offerings, including General Grant's March from 1862, as well as the modern Humboldt Brass premiere of Flowers' The Gallant Traffic Cop. The day's musical program will finish out with musical favorites from the 1960s through the 1980s, all part of the Clarke Museum's Get Out and Play Day. The Clarke Museum Plaza is located at 240 E St. in Old Town, and this event will start promptly at noon.

Leave a book. Take a book. Admire the flowers.

There is a new lending library in town! Don Verwagen, a member of Saints Martha and Mary Episcopal Church, installed the little "book house" in front of the church next to the school on Trinity Street.

Place a book in it. Take one with you. When you do, notice the beautifully kept flower beds, dandelion-free lawn, and the newly trimmed big hydrangea all thanks to church member and neighbor Connie Butler, who also voluntarily maintains the red window boxes across the street at the city annex and police office.

In other Saints Martha and Mary news, Father Daniel of Christ Church will be celebrating the matronal feast of Martha and Mary on Sunday, July 21 at 9 a.m. followed by a potluck brunch. Members and prospective members cordially invited to participate.

Luffenholtz | Beach popular with smelt net anglers with trail repairs and beach clean-ups.

In 2016, TCLT made it official and signed an MOU with CDFW to make improvements on the beach park property. In June 2019, after three years of agency review and evaluation, TCLT was deeded legal title to the property at no cost, contingent on a signed agreement to continue the state-mandated management priorities for public access, public recreation, habitat restoration and conservation.

Today, while this land is protected from development, it contains fragile habitat that is being threatened by an increasing number of visitors, as well as invasive plants. The Wolf's evening primrose (Oenothera wolfii), a California rare plant, occurs in low numbers on the sandy bluffs. The property contains the mouth of Luffenholtz Creek where it empties into the Pacific Ocean, a small reach of stream containing coastal cutthroat trout, stickleback, sculpin and lamprey.

This beach is popular with surf and smelt net anglers. The rocky shoreline contains kelp forest and intertidal habitat for marine wildlife. Luffenholtz Beach is an excellent place to view some of the off-shore rocks that are part of the California Coastal National Monument.

Luffenholtz Beach has been a traditional fishing beach for local Native people for thousands of years. Traditional staple foods harvested at this beach include smelt, lamprey and seaweed. The beach lies within the ancestral territory of the Yurok people, which includes coastal lands from Wilson Creek, in Del Norte County, to the Little River, just south of Trinidad. The Trinidad Coastal Land Trust intends to honor cultural values and to be inclusive of traditional land management.

"We want to partner with the Trinidad Rancheria and the Yurok Tribe to develop best management practices, and to design habitat protection and restoration projects. This is the Yurok people's ancestral lands where their ancestors lived and depended on the natural resources still being utilized by tribal people today. We want to respect that and work with the Tribes to develop a culturally sensitive land management plan for this beach property as well as adjacent Land Trust holdings at Houda Point, Baker Beach, and for future trails projects," said Ben Morehead, Director of the Trinidad Coastal Land Trust.

A Tornado of Tuxedos

These black and white kittens are always dressed to impress! Damon (M), Sunny (M), S'mores (F), Buttercup (F), Bubbles (F), and Myrtle (F) come from five separate litters and seem to have received the memo that attire is formal while waiting for a forever home.

Though they share similar physical characteristics, each one continues to surprise us with their individual quirks and uniquely affectionate personalities.

Damon, Bubbles and Myrtle are the toy-hunters of the group; we'll often spot one with a prized catnip mouse clutched proudly between their teeth.

An active household with lots of room to play would be ideal for them. Sunny, Buttercup and S'mores love to be held and usually have their purr motors primed and at the ready.

We would love to match them up with families that have plenty of cuddling time available.

All of our adoptable cats are available to meet at 88 Sunny Brae Center, Arcata from noon to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday.

Please be aware that the animals featured here may have applications in the process of being reviewed.

If you are interested in a specific animal, please give us a call at (707) 826-PETS (7387) or come by to fill out an application.

We recommend bringing your family or roommates with you to make sure it's a good fit for everyone!

All of the animals at Companion Animal Foundation have been spayed/neutered, microchipped, treated for parasites and are up to date on their vaccines.

A full shelter means adopters get a discount

If you have been considering adding a dog to your family, now is the time! The shelter is filled to capacity and then some, thanks in part to the dog nightmare that is the Fourth of July.

We never really know why sometimes dogs come in and turn right around and go back out, and other times no one comes for them. Add a neglect case or two, which never come with just one dog, and the shelter can get very full very fast.

The shelter manager has announced that the adoptable dogs will be available at reduced adoption fees all this week in an attempt to reduce the population a bit. Fortunately for adopters, there is quite a selection to choose from right now!

This has been the season of the German Shepherd and there are males and females, both youngsters and mature dogs. There are also several hounds, lab mixes, Pittie mixes and cattle dogs available.

All dogs and cats are spayed and neutered, microchipped and current on vaccinations. They are currently being offered at a fraction of what that would cost at the vet. Don't miss this opportunity!

One nice dog that is up for adoption is Cash. Cash is listed as a Border Collie mix, guesstimated to be about 6 years old. He is a slender, medium sized fellow.

Cash is a little timid, but reminds me of other dogs who have really bloomed once they are away from the excitement and barking that occurs at the shelter. Though Cash seems a little skittish, I noticed that he will come to me instead of running away when nervous.

He definitely knows the word "come" and several other obedience skills. This sweet boy just needs a gentle hand and some reassurance that he is safe and loved. I didn't see much interest in balls, though he did check out the toys that we had.

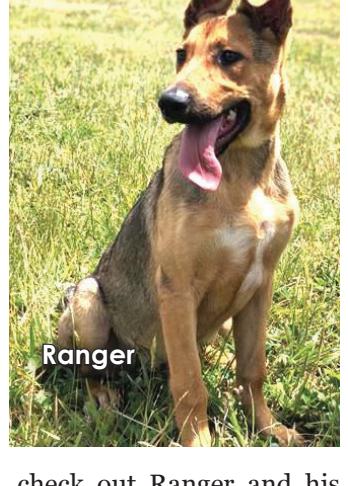

He is happy to be petted, walked or given the chance to explore the yard. He will be a very loyal companion to the person that gives him a new home!

One of the younger dogs available is Ranger. Ranger is a Shepherd mix of about 6 months old. He is a lot of fun, playful and responsive.

Ranger was adopted but his new owner had a family emergency that took her out of state for an uncertain period of time and she didn't have someone to stay with him. She was very sad to have to return him. Outside of the kennel, Ranger is one of our social butterflies!

He gets along well with the other dogs and is respectful of them if they don't want to play the same way that he does. He is equally friendly with dogs and humans and we'd expect him to be quite easy to work with for ongoing training. There are several teenage pups, all about five or six months old at the shelter. They are at a great age for molding into just the dog that you might want them to be. Come check out Ranger and his young friends if you are interested in a younger dog!

Both of these dogs, and many more, are available through the Humboldt County Animal Shelter, located at 980 Lycoming Ave. in McKinleyville. All of the currently available dogs and cats can be seen online at petharbor.com or by stopping in at the shelter Monday through Friday.
